Description

NO RESERVE. This is a STUNNING full size replica head prop of DAVROS, the evil creator of the Daleks. It's based on the original 1975 version as played by Michael Wisher, and the detail is awesome (the photos don't do it justice) The head is made from thick rubber latex, as the original was, padded with foam, and the back blue head support section allows the head to float, making it a fantastic display item (it could easily be adapted to become a wearable mask if desired). The base has a display screen with DAVROS written on it in the same seventies typography which appears a few times in the story, and there's also a button which when pressed, causes Davros's third eye to light up and pulse like the original. This is an opportunity to have Davros in your own livingroom and scare the s**t out of your mates!...BID IF YOU DARE!
